

Diploma Policy (College of Humanities and Sciences, Social Welfare)

The College of Humanities and Sciences at Nihon University confers the degree of Bachelor of Social Welfare upon those who, under the Nihon University Educational Charter, have acquired the necessary understanding of the Purpose and Mission of Nihon University, and have developed the abilities that constitute autonomous creativity: learning independently, thinking independently, and forging one's own path.

[DP1]

Be able to enhance one's ethical sense towards humans and society, based on broad and rich knowledge and culture.

[DP2]

Be able to understand the social welfare issues faced by Japan and the world, and explain social welfare from a variety of perspectives.

[DP3]

Be able to objectively consider the information available and engage in logical and critical thinking.

[DP4]

Be able to identify welfare issues in society and in the immediate environment, and from the perspective of both a professional and a citizen, propose ways for solving these issues.

[DP5]

Be able to face even the most challenging social welfare issues with perseverance and boldly consider the future of social welfare studies.

[DP6]

Be able to listen to others' opinions, understand and respect differing values, and build trust and collaborative relationships for problem-solving.

[DP7]

Be able to exercise leadership while collaborating with others in a group, drawing out and supporting the strengths of the individuals involved in social welfare, including concerned parties and collaborators.

[DP8]

Be able to continuously reflect on one's own practice and interaction with society, learn new knowledge and skills in response to societal changes, and enhance one's own qualities.